THURSDAY, JUNE 17, 1897.

Canada has decided to make the Queen's birthday a perpetual holiday. Some former British sovereigns had their birthdays celebrated for many years after their death. Several generations having become accustomed to keeping holiday on Victoria's natal day, there hardly needs to be any precedent cited for perpetuating it, in view, besides, of the glorious era synchronous and largely identified with her reign. Canada has a peculiarly strong incentive for making the holiday permanent, in the fact that it falls upon one of the most joyous seasons of that country's year. Nature is just then burgeoning and blossoming in her resurrection from the winter's white coverings, and living creatures domestic and wild giving a grand concert as they sport in air and field and wood. One of Hawaii's chief holidays, even now under the Republic, is the birthday of the first monarch of the united group, who has been dead quite a while and whose grave is unknown. The birthday of one of his dead successors and namesakes is also commemorated along with that of St. Patrick, by a closing down of all national business and occasionally a little popular diversion.

"An officer of the Philadelphia," writing from Honolulu to a friend at San Diego, is credited in a dispatch from that place with giving "a very clear idea of the situation at Honolulu, with reference to the Japanese immigration dispute." Yes, it is as clear as mud. There is not a correct statement of any account in the letter from beginning to end. It is sheer rubbish not worth reviewing. Only anyone who has wasted time in reading it may be properly asked to rid his mind of all impressions it has imparted, and those who may yet have to see the writing for the first time be honestly told that it contains neither news nor sense.

Some time ago the British Commissioner requested his landlady to make an addition to the kitchen of his official residence. The work is now being done and gives occasion to an anonymous writer in the Independent to say that "H.B. M.'s Commissioner is employing Japanese laborers in connection with his share of the celebration of the Diamond Jubilee." It happens that ex-Queen Liliuokalani is the employer of the laborers in question, and the work instead of being for the Diamond Jubilee is for the domestic comfort of her distinguished tenant.

A genuine poet, who has not been doing much for a while past, has been discovered by the BULLETIN. One of his efforts will be found in this issue, and it is hoped he may be induced to keep up his stroke.

Timely Topics

NOVELTY STEEL HARNESS

This week our topic for the consideration of the Hawaiian public is the merits of SHERWOOD'S NOVELTY STEEL HARNESS.

This is really the most complete and wonderful thing in the harness line ever offered to the public. Singletrees, double-trees and traces are entirely done away with, and a single chain is all the coupling used between the team and plow or wagon, whichever may be used. The whole arrangement is simplicity itself, and the price $25 the set, well within the reach of every teamster.

With this steel harness you may use your old bridles, lines and collars. It is just the thing for plantation work. The several sets now in use in some of the plantations give good satisfaction.

We have also a very fine stout, strong and well-made DUMP-CART HARNESS in two qualities. You would go a long way to equal them at the prices, viz.: $20 and $23 per set.

By the last steamer we received a supply of real good BUCK WHIP LASHES, in all lengths, for 2, 4, 6 and 8-horse teams.

Call in and see our stock. An inspection will well repay you the trouble.
